Inspired by the film 'Up', upper school began their topic with the question of, 'Could you really lift a house with some helium balloons?' So the classes conducted their own exciting experiment with balloons and paperclips! They all thoroughly enjoyed calculating how many balloons could lift a Guinea pig, a bike and even a caravan!

#NumeracyKnowHow

This half term, the school council have focused on one of the school's target, #NumeracyKnowHow. We have visited all the classes conducting our own learning walk, taking photos on ipads of what is really happening in classes!
